

MEETING IN PARIS

European Program Grundtvig Project BOOKS LIKE ACTING

Date: 19 & 20th, March 2015

reading books for people with special needs:
Pedagogical methods

Traditional tales writing group
ADPI ©

Meeting with 25 trainers and teachers from 7 countries including France: Romania, Poland, Italia, Spain, Sweden, Turkey

Each country presented its news activities with their beneficiaries.

Study visit :

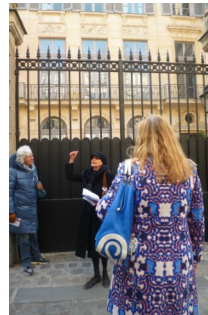

The city of Paris being very large, the partners visited by boat on the Seine and admired its history and architecture.

We also visit the public library Pompidou in the centre of Paris, a very important library opened to the all audiences with a self-training centre to learn foreign languages, computers...All the books are on free access.

We have finished the program by a literary guided tour in the Latin Quarter where we visited the emblematic places of twentieth -century famous writers: Appollinaire, Jean-Paul Sartre, Simone de Beauvoir, Joyce, Hemingway, Fitzgerald..

Link to the Books Like Acting project:
<http://bookslikeacting.mixxt.eu/>

Writing traditional tales

ADPI centre is a private training centre which welcomes many groups in difficulty of integration : migrants, disabled workers, youngsters without qualification... They manage these target groups by :- working on linguistic skills, with Gattegno tools for a few groups working on professional integration (with the partnership of LASER training centre). These programs are financed par the regional Council of Ile de France.

We have presented the work of a group of 10 young people. Each one had to write one tale from origin country. This exercise managed by a teacher enabled to work the French language.

Link to the traditional tales booklet:
http://issuu.com/adpi/docs/livre_de_contes_avenir_jeunes